6. Committee and Staff Reports

A. Office Manager, Event Manager

Sienna reported that the two Foxglove/New Nashville West concerts were a success. Dana Fox set up a festive and well-stocked bar. Sienna managed Navarro wine and beer. On 12/27 the total bar gross was $824, including $97 in tips. On 12/28 the total bar gross was $633.80, including $95.30 in tips. Wine accounts for about half the sales, with the other half split fairly evenly between beer and mixed drinks (non-alcoholic only on 12/27, cocktails too on 12/28).

New Year's Eve Dance Party brought in approximately $2,400 at the door (total Harvest ticket sales unknown), and $1,038 at the bar ($107 in tips). Dana set up and worked the bar with a lot of help from volunteers. There were at least 90.5 tickets sold and over 100 people in attendance. Mama Grows Funk was delightful.

Sienna is grateful for all Dana's work on the bars, and especially proud of his attention to non-alcoholic options. Working the Pop-up bars for the past several months, she's become very conscious of the responsibility of running a good bar. It's a financial responsibility but also a social one. Annie mentioned that one patron was cut off, gently, by Jim Katzel, at the New Year's dance. The patron was a bit upset at first but later thanked Jim for caring to do so.

The Pop-up crew is still deciding on their 2020 plans. They have four dates confirmed but they are still considering the other dates originally reserved. There may be changes in the Pop-up crew as well as bar management for the events if they do continue.

On February 22, the Mendocino Film Festival (MFF) would like to rent the Center for a member reception and film. The date was a Pop-up date and has been released. MFF requested permission for the use of the projector, with Dana's help. They are also considering renting the Center as a Film Festival venue, May 30, 2020. Bob approved the use of the projector.

Lea reported, by way of Sienna, that she is looking into hiring a regular janitor to cover our cleaning needs. She has been speaking to a couple of people and will bring a proposal to the Board.
